

Take Power in Treating Your Pain

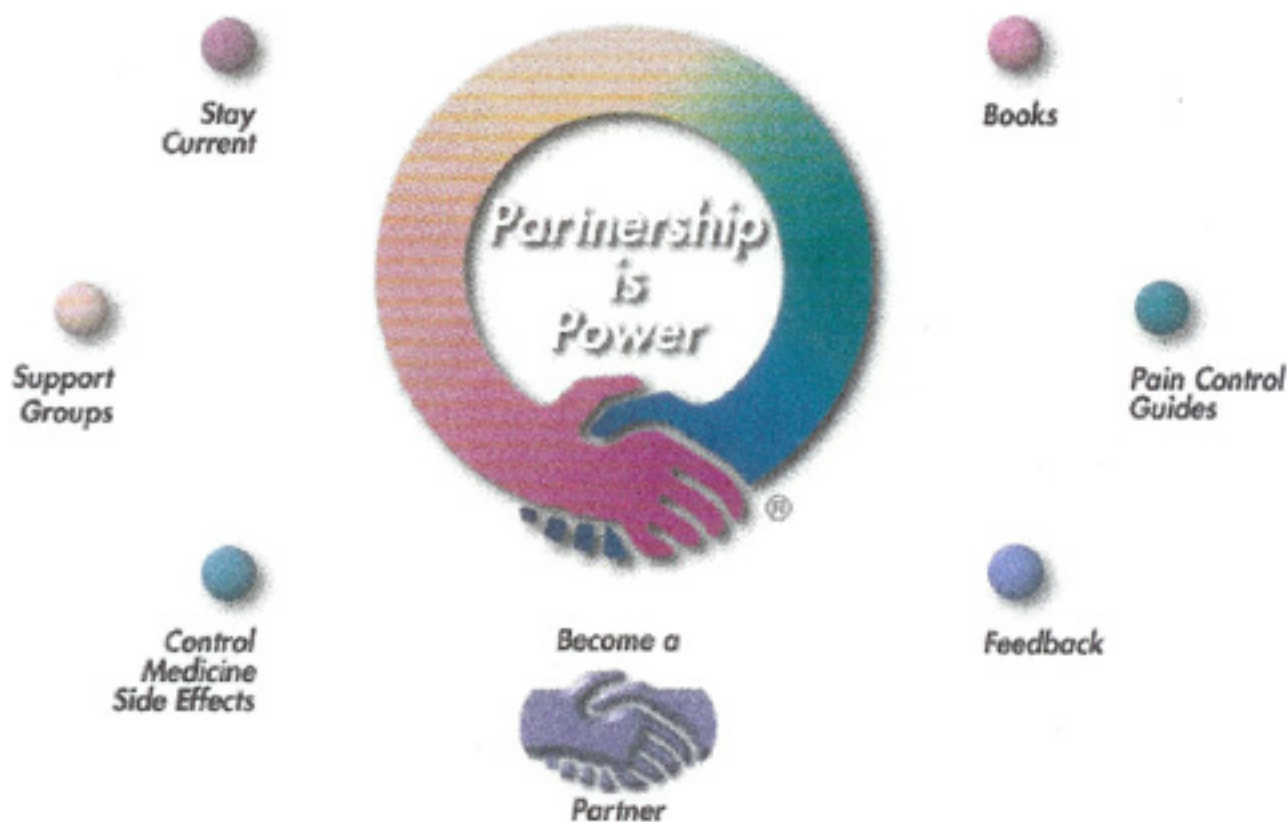

"...patients must be empowered to demand adequate pain relief, regardless of the cause of pain or the methods required to achieve relief."

-C. Stratton Hill, MD, The Journal of the American Medical Association, 1995; 274: 1881-1882

Cancer and noncancer pain can be treated.
Take power--ask your doctor about drugs, exercise,
physical therapy and other treatments for pain.

NEW! Information You Requested on Pain Research...

News on Non-Drug Treatments for Pain - 7/25/97
What To Do When Pain Medicine Causes Constipation - 8/28/97

Return to the Partners Against Pain® home page

Partners Against Pain[®]

Steps to Control Pain

Click on the level of pain you need to treat.

Professional Education

Management Tools

Steps to Control Pain

Prescribing Information

Patient Education

Feedback

Become a Partner

Home